VICTORIA'S TIPS

1. Never be afraid to speak up for yourself. You are your own advocate!
2. Yes, equipment matters, but never forget that YOU are the talent behind the camera.
3. Start somewhere. Just start! You never know where it will lead you, the connections you'll make, or what doors it will open!

Victoria Prickett landed her current role by taking the initiative. She reached out to her school's athletics department and connected with the right people.

As a woman navigating a male-dominated industry, she holds onto the best career advice she's ever received: "If it were easy, everyone would do it." This perspective shift has fueled her determination to push past temporary doubts and continue chasing her dreams.
