INTERN INSIGHTS

JOEY ADDICOTT

Baseball Operations Intern,

Savannah Bananas

Pittsburgh State University - Class of 2025

► INTERNSHIP RECAP:

Joey worked with the Savannah Bananas as a Baseball Operations Intern. His role meant working closely with players and coaches to address needs, manage practices, and handle the many behind-the-scenes logistics that keep a team running smoothly.

► KEY TAKEAWAYS:

The experience went beyond baseball for Joey. He walked away with valuable lessons such as:

- Always put fans first because they're the reason the game exists
- Fear of failure is worse than failure itself; apprehension prevents innovation
- Long-term relationships matter more than short-term wins

Banana Ball

► LOOKING AHEAD:

This wasn't Joey's first foray into the sports world – he previously interned with the Dallas Cowboys, but his time with the Bananas reinforced his passion for operations and team culture.

As for what's next, Joey dreams of continuing on the operations side with a professional sports organization – helping teams succeed both on and off the field.

JOEY'S
ADVICE

A lot of students are afraid to apply for roles because they feel like there are better-qualified candidates out there, or believe there is just "no way" they will get the job. If you don't apply you will never know!

Don't count yourself out before you even apply!
